Walking Tour of Madison | Encounter Culture: What Dwells Inside...

1. Walk up Main St to take a left on Butler. Note the difference between the buildings on the left vs the brick building we will go under on the right.
2. As we come out of the underpass, stand and look at the contrasting shapes of the buildings in front of us.
3. Walk up Doty and go through the parking garage. Look at the contrast between the red roof / brick building and the grey concrete building.
4. Walk down Pinckney into the Terrace parking lot--Look over the edge to observe the spiral to the left, the lake in front, and look down.
5. Follow the sidewalk into the Monona Terrace lobby--walk into the space and note the color and shape (If able, walk over to the windows to see the lake from the inside).
6. Walk up the stairs by the entrance / on the next floor, look through the window into the lobby to change perspective.
7. Go outside and up to the upper terrace--take a moment to look at the lake and get a sense of the change in space.
8. Walk down Martin Luther King towards the capitol--note the difference and contrast between the capitol building and the office buildings.
9. Enter the capitol (observe the sense you have as you first come in) What does it remind you of?
10. Take about 10 minutes on your own to walk around the rotunda and up into the West gallery all the way down to the first floor of the South gallery. We will meet here to exit out of the South door.
11. Walk down Main St--observe the types of buildings on the left.
12. At the corner of Main and Fairchild, stop and look to the left at the Criminal Courts building and the way it contrasts the other buildings.
13. Cross Fairchild to the St Raphael Cathedral site. Pay close attention to the surroundings on all sides. (Walk through the site)
14. Walk down Fairchild toward State St., and enter the Library on the left
15. Across the street, enter the Overture Center, and walk through it and out onto State St.
16. Cross the street and go into the Orpheum--note the purposes of these two buildings and their differences.
17. Cross the street and enter the Madison Museum of Contemporary Art--take 10 minutes to walk up the stairs and out onto the sculpture garden.
18. Exit the museum and head to Holy Redeemer. Take a rest and go to the bathroom etc.
19. Walk back to St Patrick’s Church
