ABOUT OUR PARISH

The Cathedral Parish of St. Raphael was formed on July 1, 2008 by the merger of three historic parishes located within a few blocks of the Capitol Square.

The buildings of two of those historic parishes – Holy Redeemer and St. Patrick – provide the current facilities for the Cathedral Parish. Mass is offered every day in both churches. The parish rectory is at the Holy Redeemer site, while the offices are at the St. Patrick location.

Old St. Raphael Cathedral was destroyed by arson in 2005. Bishop Morlino has announced his intention to erect a new cathedral on the same site (at West Main and Fairchild). In the meantime, an outdoor Way of the Cross is located there.

Most Holy Trinity

God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him. - Jn 3:16-17
Corpus Christi Procession Next Sunday

Next Sunday, June 22nd, the Church celebrates the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ — “Corpus Christi.” One of the great events of the year here in the Cathedral Parish is our Corpus Christi Procession. Plan to join us next Sunday!

The procession begins at the conclusion of the 11:00 Mass with Bishop Morlino at St. Patrick. The Eucharist is carried in procession up E. Main Street to the Capitol Square, and then around to the State Street porch of the Capitol. At the Capitol, people coming from the 11:00 Mass in Spanish at Holy Redeemer join us for a time of prayer and brief remarks by Bishop Morlino. Then we all process down State Street to Johnson and into Holy Redeemer Church, where Bishop Morlino celebrates Benediction.

First Communicants

Those who have received their First Holy Communion this year should come in their First Communion clothes to take an honored place in the procession.

Musicians

Contact Tom Taagen (tomtaagen@hotmail.com) to participate in the New-Orleans-style marching band that will accompany the Corpus Christi procession this year.

The Mass of Confirmation was really beautiful! The church was full, but no one needed to stand. We are accustomed to the Bishop being with us for solemn liturgies and so, under Fr. Ihm’s direction, the ceremonies were done very smoothly and gracefully. The music was exceptional. The Mass was mostly in English, but we used a certain amount of Spanish since most of the confirmandi were from the Hispanic community.

In the course of his homily, Bishop Morlino mentioned that a bishop should be in his cathedral on Pentecost, and that ideally he should confirm on that day. It may be that in some years, Bishop Morlino will be away at Pentecost, but it seems that we can look forward to celebrating Confirmation at Pentecost as a regular feature of parish life.

Deacon Scott’s Ordination June 27th

Deacon Scott Jablonski will be ordained a priest for the Diocese of Madison on Friday, June 27th. He will celebrate his Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Patrick on the next day — Saturday, June 28th — at the regular 5:00 Mass time. Reservations are not needed for the Mass of Thanksgiving.
Dear Friends in Christ:

I feel compelled today to return to the topic of marriage, and the recent decision of Judge Crabb that Wisconsin lacks a “legitimate reason” to restrict marriage to persons of opposite sex.

I could say much about that in theological terms, citing the plan of the Creator. Those are important points to make, but here I want to restrict my argument to one based on reason – the kind of argument that a civil court can and ought to recognize.

What “legitimate reason” could the State have for defining marriage as a heterosexual relationship? There is an important prior question: Why does the State take an interest in marriage at all? Marriage confers recognition and certain benefits on adult persons who choose to enter a permanent and exclusive intimate relationship with each other. Why should the State take an interest in that?

On what basis should the State of Wisconsin prefer stable, long-term sexual relationships over multiple episodic sexual encounters? Why should the State “legislate morality” in this way? Doesn’t the State recognition of marriage deny “equal protection” (as to taxation, for example) to the sexually promiscuous? In the contemporary climate, it could plausibly be argued that all laws about marriage are unconstitutional for discriminating against those who are averse to commitment . . . unless the State has a “legitimate interest” in preferring stable sexual relationships.

Does the State have any rational basis for that preference? Sure it does: the fact that the sexual relationship between a man and woman can produce children. The State has an objective, non-sectarian interest in promoting a new generation of healthy and virtuous citizens, as well as an interest in having children supported as to their basic needs (food, shelter) by those who are rightly responsible for them. For this reason, the State has a legitimate reason for encouraging heterosexual couples to remain in a permanent union, and it rightly recognizes and privileges marriage, which is that relationship.

For the same reason, the State formerly had laws to protect the stability of marriage. There were laws against adultery. And in a case of marital infidelity, only the innocent party could obtain a divorce. A couple of generations ago, our demand for sexual license led the State to abdicate any responsibility to protect the stability of marriage, and now we have “no-fault divorce,” unfailingly granted at the request of either party with no justification required. I think a very good case can be made that the State’s refusal to protect the stability of marriage has been very detrimental to the culture. And if the State forgets even what marriage is, it will be far worse.

Msgr. Kevin D. Holmes

Join us for the next TOT gathering this Thursday, June 19th, 7:00 pm at the Brink Lounge. Phil Lawson, the Young Adult Ministry Discipleship and Formation Coordinator, Department of New Evangelization for the Diocese of Green Bay will speak to us about Encountering Christ in the New Evangelization. This echoes Pope Francis’ invitation, I invite all Christians, everywhere, at this very moment, to a renewed personal encounter with Jesus Christ, or at least an openness to letting him encounter them. We’ll use Nicodemus’ “encounter” with Christ in the Gospel of John as a model.

Phil has a Master’s Degree in Pastoral Theology from the Institute for Pastoral Theology. He and his wife have four children.

La Santísima Trinidad

Es la operación rescaté del Padre para todos los mortales, para la cual envía nada menos que a Su propio Hijo, pero no para señalar con el dedo, para acusar, para condenar, sino para levantar al hombre, para rescatarlo, para perdonarlo, y para envolverlo tiernamente con calientes lienzos de amor, como cuando un hombre atenido de frío, es rescatado de las gélidas olas de un mar embravecido.

Para que haya amor se necesitan tres, el amante, el amado y el amor. En el caso de la Trinidad, el amante es el Padre, el amado es el Hijo y el amor es precisamente el Espíritu Santo que va a fundir, como Espíritu, en uno solo, el amor entrañable del Padre y del Hijo. Los teólogos dirán que es una sola naturaleza que origina tres personas iguales. Dios se expande en tres y resulta uno. El Padre y el Hijo se encuentran y se abrazan en el Espíritu.

El domingo pasado hemos llamado al Espíritu Santo “Dulce huésped del alma” y hoy tenemos que invocarlo nuevamente para ser en nuestras vidas, semejantes al Padre que nos ama incondicionalmente, y semejantes al Hijo que gratuitamente y sin merecerlo, nos ha amado hasta lo último. Si queremos ser amantes y fieles a la Trinidad Santa de Dios, no tendremos que tener un gran cuidado por entender los entresijos de Dios, sino intentar reproducir en nuestra vida y en nuestra sociedad, ese amor entrañable que se vive en el seno de la Trinidad.

Ser cristianos y creyentes hoy, será salir al paso del Dios fiel y bondadoso, que viene a nuestro encuentro para ofrecernos amor, para ofrecérse como el amante y como el que nos enseña a amar a los demás, hasta entregar la propia vida, como Él lo hizo una sola vez en lo alto de la cruz, y que convirtió Su sacrificio en una levadura que a todos los alcanza y que nos envuelve en un solo amor, invitándonos a reproducir en nuestra vida lo que viviremos en el seno de la Trinidad: una vida de amor.

La Casa del Señor
La iglesia es la Casa de Dios, y Dios vive en ella, debemos respetarla todo el tiempo.
El estar en comunicación con Dios debe ser nuestro único objetivo, por ende necesitamos estar en silencio y dejar que nuestra alma y mente estén más cercanas al Rey.
Debemos vestir decente y arregladamente. Aunque haga mucho calor afuera, no debemos acudir en shorts, Bermudas, blusas o faldas cortas o transparentes, sandalias playeras, camisetas sin mangas, etc.
Si tenemos niños, debemos enseñarles a amar y respetar la Casa del Señor y al Señor mismo con el ejemplo. Si los niños lloran, están inquietos o hablan mucho, tratemos de calmarlos, o llevemoslos al comedor del sótano donde la misa es transmitida en pantalla de televisión.
Recordemos:
Dios es el Señor de señores y el Rey de reyes, y Su casa es sagrada.
